If we could lose our job for something like being late for work, then something as simple as a flat tire isn't very simple. It could cost us everything that we've worked for.

Labor unions protect our jobs with mandatory discipline steps that the company must follow before it can legally fire us. Job Security is important to the 90,000 airport and aerospace workers with the IAM.

That's why more IAM members retire than get fired each year.

You Depend on Your Job. Protect it.
