The Pilot's Union Contract: WHAT DID THEY GET?

The pilots have won the first union contract in the history of JetBlue.
So what's in it?

More schedule flexibility. They fought to ensure that their version of Roster Apps was protected, and that rest periods between shifts are long enough for them to fly safely.

Industry Standard Pay. JetBlue Pilots fly the same routes and aircraft as pilots at other airlines. The contract that they voted to ratify will ensure that they also get more of the pay they deserve.

No JetBlue Express. Their Union Contract makes it much harder for the company to outsource jobs to low wage contractors.

Pay, benefits and work-rules improvements won't wait another second. The new Union Contract went into effect on August 1.

Real Job protections, including strong language that protects them against both layoffs and involuntary furloughs, as well as mergers.

All JetBlue Pilots will share a $50 Million signing bonus, to be paid out on the date that they voted to ratify their new union contract.
